

Course: Animals in Watercolor (Online)

Instructor: Michelle Oosterbaan

Days/Dates: 6 weeks, Thursdays, March 20 – April 24

WATERCOLOR Painting. That means soft brushes not oil/acrylic brushes or paints. Your paints should be from tubes and your basic colors are listed below. If you use quality materials you get greater results. I like tubes rather than blocks. Supplies may be purchased at a discount at www.blick.com, jerrysartarama.com, www.cheapjoes.com. Please purchase a set with the basic colors included in it.

PAINTS

Tubes come in sets. Brands from Winsor Newton are a great start, generic brands like Artist Loft from Michaels are awful and bring on muddy colors, do not buy that brand from Michaels, but they do sell Cotman and Winsor Newton. You will need a Palette with paint compartments and a lid to save the paints from week to week or day to day, that is important as you begin to work frequently on assignments.

Paint Tubes Sets include, but are not limited to:

YELLOWS

cadmium yellow* - warm

Lemon yellow * - cool

yellow ochre* - earth

REDS

Alizarin Crimson * - cool

Magenta or Permanent Rose

BROWNS

PALETTE

Plastic, or enamel steel tray or ceramic plates or a premade plastic tray paint compartments and a lid (optional) to save the paints from week to week or day to day, that is important as you begin to work frequently on assignments. A plastic lid for a glass lasagna pan works well too! or tupperware to hold a disposable paper palette.

PAPER

Arches Cold pressed blocked paper, 140LB. which is slightly textured, and already stretched in a block is the way to go. You may wish to purchase a couple of pieces of Arches paper at 140 lb. and cut them for class, or a less expensive pad by Canson, Strathmore

9x12 Sketchbook or paper for sketching painting pre painting

A small Watercolor sketchbook 3" x 5" or 5" x 7" is wonderful for practicing or making it a color recipe reference book.
